Terms of Piano Tuition

- I do not offer joint piano lessons.
- There is space for one parent / guardian to sit in as required.
- No refund is offered / you will still be charged the full amount if you do not attend for a lesson, cancel with less than 48 hours notice or arrive late for your lesson.
- Please do not arrive early for your lesson and arrange for prompt picking up as necessary as I do not have a waiting area.
- Please do not park on the driveway unless this has been prearranged.
- My fees may increase annually to account for inflation. Advance notice will be given.
- All pupils should be willing to honour a regular practice routine.
- Lack of cooperation or multiple failures to attend will result in immediate cancellation of this contract with no refund / you will still be charged.
- For term based agreements, cancellation of the agreement will require you to continue your payments until the end of the current term.
- For all other agreements, I ask for a one month cancellation period. Please note that cancelling your agreement does not affect your lesson entitlement during the cancellation period (see below).

Payments

- Your first lesson is £20. This will be deducted from your first payment if you sign up for an agreement with me within four weeks of this lesson.
- All payments are due on the 1st of the month.
- Term time agreements cover 36 lessons per year. Please note that this is after 4 weeks of my own annual leave which I may take at any time. This has been factored into the cost.
- Ongoing agreements cover 42 - 46 lessons per year. Please note that this is including 6 weeks of my own annual leave which I may take at any time. This has been factored into the cost. A further four weeks has been factored into the cost to allow for your own break / holiday.

- Lesson entitlement is strictly on a maximum one per week basis. Ad hoc lessons are charged at a rate of £28 for 30 minutes and £42 for 1 hour.
- A cooling off period of 48 hours will be given from you first signing your agreement, during which you will be entitled to full refund / no charge.
